
QUAKER LIFE IN TASMANIA

THE FIRST HUNDRED YEARS

BY MICHAEL BENNETT

Quaker life in Tasmania: the first hundred years by Michael Bennett

ISBN 1 86295 367 8

Quaker life in Tasmania: the first hundred years is an engagingly written and beautifully illustrated history of the Friends in Tasmania. From 1832, with the arrival of the first missionaries in Hobart and the establishment of the first Meeting, the Quakers have made a disproportionate contribution to Tasmanian life and welfare. Their witness against the brutal treatment of Aborigines and convicts, and their enterprise and philanthropy, played a considerable role in Tasmania's evolution from a vice-ridden penal settlement to a self-reliant and humane society. This is the fascinating story of remarkable women and men whose values, commitment and service remain an inspiration and living force in contemporary Tasmania.

The book has sixty-four pages, six in full colour, with over 100 pictures of items selected from the collections of the Religious Society of Friends' Meeting House, the Friends' School, the University of Tasmania Library Special and Rare Collections, and private owners.

Michael Bennett is Professor of History, University of Tasmania, and the author of four books and many articles on British and Australian history.

To order your copy complete and return this form to: University of Tasmania Library, Private Bag 25, Hobart, Tasmania, Australia 7001

Name: _____ Address: _____

_____ P/code: _____ State: _____ Country: _____

Quaker Life in Tasmania: the first hundred years $25.00 × Quantity [ ] $ _____

Plus postage per book: $ 3.50 (within Australia) $ _____

Total (includes GST) $ _____

Method of Payment:

☐ Bank Card ☐ Master Card ☐ Visa Card ☐ Cheque (within Australia only, made payable to the University of Tasmania Library)

UTAS

| | | | | | | | | | | | | | | | | | | | |

Expiry: / Signature: _____