Statement from the Vice-Chancellor

EDGE2, the University of Tasmania Plan for 2008-2010, outlines how we will consolidate the achievements of the previous planning period and begin a dynamic new phase of our development with a number of exciting new strategic initiatives.

EDGE – or Excellence, Distinctiveness, Growth and Engagement – remains the cornerstone of our approach to strategic planning. All four elements of EDGE continue to be reflected in UTAS’ Aspirations, Institutional Goals and 2008-2010 Priorities, but with an enhanced focus on Excellence and Distinctiveness.

The EDGE2 Priorities encapsulate our commitment to providing quality academic programs to meet the needs of Tasmanians, building on our research strengths and identifying new areas of excellence, and strengthening our partnerships while deepening the level of engagement with our communities. These priorities are underpinned by imperatives to foster a vibrant, high-performance culture and to align all our resources and systems to support our strategic ambitions.

Our strong traditions, significant academic achievements, healthy financial position, clear vision and strong sense of direction all combine to position UTAS well for a bright and exciting future.

I am delighted to present the University of Tasmania Plan for 2008-2010. I look forward to working with you all to convert our ambitions into realities.

Professor Daryl Le Grew

MISSION
The University of Tasmania is committed to continuing its long tradition of excellence in the creation, preservation, communication and application of knowledge, and to scholarship that is global in scope, distinctive in its specialisations and that reflects our Tasmanian character. The University will provide leadership within its community, thereby contributing to the cultural, economic and social development of Tasmania.

VISION
The University of Tasmania will be ranked among the top echelon of research-led universities in Australia. The University will be a world leader in its specialist, thematic areas and will be recognised for its contribution to state and national development. UTAS will be characterised by its high-quality academic community, its unique island setting and its distinctive student experience.

THE UTAS EDGE
In 2005 the University critically examined what was required over the next five to 10 years to enable the full realisation of its Mission and Vision. The four cornerstones for building a strong and vibrant institution that emerged through consultations were:

1. Excellence – we must have excellence as a hallmark of all activities.
2. Distinctiveness – we must develop our own distinctive, recognisable and attractive character.
3. Growth – we must continue to grow to an optimal size.
4. Engagement – we must serve our communities and become a sought-after local, national and international partner.

Thus: Excellence, Distinctiveness, Growth and Engagement give UTAS the EDGE.

EDGE2
The first three years of the EDGE agenda, 2005-2007, saw an emphasis on Growth. The result has been a continuing rise in the proportion of Tasmanians with a university qualification, adding to the economic, social and cultural fabric of the state. We have maintained a solid reputation for quality research through our faculties, centres and institutes, and have improved our standing in teaching and learning rankings.

EDGE2 covers the period 2008-2010. While our longer-term goals remain the same, the specific priorities for 2008-2010 are framed to reflect an enhanced focus on Excellence and Distinctiveness. We will continue to grow to reach optimal size, and remain a university for all Tasmanians, taking Tasmania to the world and the world to Tasmania through meaningful Engagement.
ASPIRATIONS

EXCELLENCE
UTAS will continue to be renowned as a university of international standing, and will achieve high rankings for both research and teaching and learning. UTAS will attract staff and students of the highest calibre and produce world-class graduates.

DISTINCTIVENESS
UTAS will be recognised for its distinctive coursework programs and research strengths. It will provide a distinctive and energising student experience deriving from a combination of its global outlook and unique Tasmanian perspective. UTAS’ culture will support strengthening the relationships between individuals, the University and the community.

GROWTH
UTAS will grow and develop to an optimal size to support its academic activities, while maintaining a strategically balanced and distinctive enrolment and campus profile. Growth in enrolments and research activities will be underpinned by efficient and effective administrative processes and the appropriate provision of resources.

ENGAGEMENT
UTAS will continue to contribute to the growth and development of Tasmania by enhancing the economic, social, cultural and environmental wellbeing of Tasmanians. It will develop local, national and international partnerships to strengthen the contributions of its research and teaching programs.
