GUIDELINES FOR THE PREPARATION OF NOMINATION MATERIALS FOR THE AWARD OF FELLOW OF THE UNIVERSITY OF TASMANIA

Fellow of the University of Tasmania
The award “Fellow of the University of Tasmania” is available to people, not current employees of the University or any of its affiliates, who have rendered noteworthy service to the University or one of its antecedent organisations.

The award takes the form of a testamur signed by the Chancellor, and will be presented by the Chancellor at an appropriate ceremony, such as a graduation ceremony of the University.

Recipients of the award will be accorded access to the University Library and will be invited to participate in formal ceremonial occasions of the University.

Nominations
A member of the University’s Council, a Dean of Faculty, a Head of School or head of an administrative division, or other interested person may make a nomination for the award of Fellow of the University of Tasmania. The University Secretary will call for nominations each year. Nominations may also, however, be submitted at any other time.

Documentation
All nominations for the award of Fellow of the University of Tasmania should be supported by a citation of 300 to 500 words outlining the grounds on which the nomination is made. A curriculum vitae for the nominee should also be provided if possible.

The nomination should, where appropriate, give the names of 2 referees who could be approached to support the nomination.

Confidentiality
All nominations will be treated in the strictest confidence.

Method of approval
The Ceremonial and Honorary Degrees Committee of Council will consider nominations in the first instance. Before considering a nomination, the Committee will seek advice from the Director of Public Relations and University Extension and, in the case of the nomination of a person resident outside Australia, from the Director of International Services, on the manner in which the nomination supports the University’s community relations and marketing strategy. The recommendations of the Ceremonial and Honorary Degrees Committee will be submitted to the next available meeting of the University’s Council, which will make a determination on the conferral.

Advice of Outcome
The Vice-Chancellor will make each approved recipient an offer of the award of Fellow immediately after approval of the conferral by Council. The letter of offer will outline options for the presentation of the award. The University Secretary will advise the nominator of the outcome of the nomination where appropriate.

Publicity
The intention to present the award of Fellow may be made public, subject to the agreement of the recipient, any time after an acceptance has been received. In the normal course of events the intention to present the award of Fellow will not be made public until several days before the award is to be presented.
