

Conference Speakers

Professor David Adams is a Professor in Management and Innovation at the University of Tasmania. David specialises in developing and implementing strategies that increase the performance of regional assets. He has worked on a number of local and national liveability strategies including 'Melbourne 2030'. He advises the OECD and the World Bank on the 'Measuring the Well-being of Societies' project.

Jason Purdie is Editor at The Advocate and started his cadetship on his hometown paper in regional Queensland. He has since worked on a number of titles in three states. The Advocate is his fourth paper as Editor and he is entering 10 years in the role. He has rightly or wrongly earned a reputation for organisational cultural change and community engagement

Stephen Karpeles was born, raised and educated on the North West Coast. Stephen studied science law at the University of Tasmania. Having travelled extensively Stephen decided to return to the North West Coast to commence his career in law, initially in private practice, but then as a Prosecutor with Tasmania Police. Stephen has been involved in the CCYPN since its inception and has been its chairman for the past 18 months.

Roger Jaensch is Executive Chairman of the Cradle Coast Authority, an independent body established by nine local government Councils to coordinate and drive regional development across NW Tasmania. Before coming to Tasmania, Roger worked on rural development, land use planning and structural adjustment projects in the Gascoyne, Murchison and Goldfields regions of Western Australia.

Clayton Hawkins is a PhD Candidate, lecturer and project manager with the Institute for Regional Development where his interests are in the area of leisure, arts, sport and public policy. He has multi-award winning practitioner experience working in local government and is the current secretary of the Cradle Coast Young Professionals Network.

Plugging In

Should I Stay or Should I Go Now?

YP Conference and Summit
24th October 2008
UTAS Cradle Coast Campus

YP Conference and Summit 2008

'Plugging In - Should I Stay or Should I Go Now?' is the signature event of the inaugural YP Month 2008 and the CCYPN welcomes you, as a young professional in the Cradle Coast, to attend. The event is split into two parts: 1. The Conference in the morning where you can hear from well-respected speakers who will be thought provoking and propose some issues facing young professionals living and working in regional areas; and 2. The Summit in the afternoon where you can actively participate in a summit-styled event that is not unlike the Australia2020 Summit held earlier this year. The event is free of charge so come with an open mind and take advantage of the opportunity to play a role in the future of the region and then chill out at our 'Unplugged' event following the Summit. While you're at it, why not offer a poster or display presentation in the lunch break. Spaces are limited to 120 people so get in quick to secure your place.

YP Month Events

Tuesday 7th October - "The Pharmacist - A Cure for all ills?" - Devonport Regional Gallery - Stewart Street, Devonport - 7pm start - $15 general admission or $8 for members and people who have registered for the YP Conference - Direct from a sell out season at the 2007 Edinburgh Fringe Festival, Directions Theatre presents "The Pharmacist". Everyone experiences pain. Everyone's pain is different. How do people deal with pain of the body and pain of the mind? And does one cause the other? "The Pharmacist", written and performed by Jane Russell and directed by Ingrid Ganley, tells the story of a week in the life of a pharmacist and many of the people who come into her chemist. - www.devonportgallery.com

Friday 10th October - A Night with The Richie Benaud Allstars - Magintys Irish Bar - Wilson Street, Burnie - 7.30pm to 11.30pm - Free Entry - Just roll in and let your hair down in a night of fun with one of the North-West Coast's best music acts - www.chent.net
