MATERIALS

HEF216 is a text-book based course. Its backbone is Intrigue, a multimedia French course for intermediate students. The textbook materials may sometimes be supplemented with other materials designed to promote communication in the target language.

The required Student Activities Manual which accompanies Intrigue contains a wealth of grammatical and audiovisual exercises. Of these, some will be corrected and/or commented on in class. Little or no time will be devoted to the explanation of grammatical terms. Students who feel they need extra guidance are encouraged to read and consult in their own time either of the following:

- Jacqueline Morton, English grammar for students of French, The Olivia and Hill Press
- C. Frederick Farrell Jr., Side by side French & English grammar, McGrawHill

LECTURE/SEMINAR SCHEDULE

- The basic structure of the unit is dictated by the text book Intrigue; exercises in the required Student Activities Manual (SAM) need to be completed on a regular basis.

Four written activities (assignments or tests – as advised) are to be submitted either in hardcopy or as directed. Topics/exercises – to be advised. These activities will be due in weeks 17, 20, 23 & 26. These written assignments may also include set exercises and activities in the Student Activities Manual. Students are required to keep copies of all submitted assignments.

2. 2 x aural tests (« Tests de compréhension auditive »)

The aural tests assess learning outcomes 1 to 3 and are worth 20% of the final mark.

Two aural tests which relate to topics associated with vocabulary acquired during semester will be held at times specified in the lecture/seminar schedule. Note-taking will be allowed at all times. Students must arrive on time. There will be no additional listening sessions for those arriving late, nor for absentees without medical certification (or other appropriate documentation).

3. 1 x Oral test

The oral test assesses learning outcomes 1 to 4 and is worth 20% of the final mark.

A ten-minute oral test will be held towards the end of week 26. A roster will be made available on which students will be allowed to select the time slot at which they wish to take the test, on a first-come first-served basis.

4. 1x 3-hour written examination

The written examination assesses learning outcomes 1 to 4 and is worth 40% of the final mark.

The examination relates to all aspects of the unit. Students are encouraged not to leave any gaps in their answers to any of the questions. The examination will be scheduled in the official examination period. The timetable is published on the UTAS website.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

Submission of Assignments

Students are required to submit a signed cover sheet with every assignment. This includes a declaration that all material submitted is their own work except where there is clear acknowledgement or reference to the work of others and that they have read the University statement on Academic Misconduct (Plagiarism) on the University website at www.utas.edu.au/plagiarism or in the Student Information Handbook.

Assignment cover sheets are available from the School office or the School website. Assignments submitted without a signed cover sheet will not be marked. Students who submit assignments without a signed cover sheet will be contacted once via their UTAS email address; in such instances the cover sheet must be completed within two weeks of the due date.

All assignments must be submitted in hard-copy (not by email) and placed in the essay box at the School office on or before 5pm on the due date. Students are required to keep copies of all submitted assignments. Assignments submitted on time will be returned within three weeks of the due date; once on time assignments have been returned no further late assignments will be accepted. All marked assignments will be returned in tutorials unless otherwise advised.

Late Assignments

Late submissions will be penalized as follows: 5% of the available marks for the first day, and then 2% per working day thereafter. Late work will be accepted without penalty if accompanied by a medical certificate for the relevant period or a letter from a counsellor in the case of a serious non-medical reason.

University Statement on Plagiarism and Academic Integrity

"Plagiarism is a form of cheating. It is taking and using someone else's thoughts, writings or inventions and representing them as your own; for example, using an author's words without putting them in quotation marks and citing the source, using an author's ideas without proper acknowledgment and citation, copying another student's work.

If you have any doubts about how to refer to the work of others in your assignments, please consult your lecturer or tutor for relevant referencing guidelines, and the academic integrity resources on the web at <http://www.utas.edu.au/tl/supporting/academicintegrity/index.html>.

The intentional copying of someone else's work as one's own is a serious offence punishable by penalties that may range from a fine or deduction/cancellation of marks and, in the most serious of cases, to exclusion from a unit, a course or the University. Details of penalties that can be imposed are available in the Ordinance of Student Discipline – Part 3 Academic Misconduct, see <http://www.utas.edu.au/universitycouncil/legislation/>."

The University and any persons authorised by the University may submit your assessable works to a plagiarism checking service, to obtain a report on possible instances of plagiarism. Assessable works may also be included in a reference database. It is a condition of this arrangement that the original author's permission is required before a work within the database can be viewed.
