

EndNote and ERIC

Importing records from ERIC databases can be done directly without the need for an EndNote filter. Although ERIC does have some fulltext articles, only brief citations will be loaded into your EndNote library.

In ERIC ...

- Perform a search.
- Mark the citations you want to save by clicking the Add icon next to each citation
- Click on the ...items in My Clipboard link.
- On the My Clipboard screen, ensure the citations you want to export are marked, click on Export citations.
- Select Citation Manager File (will open in EndNote, ProCite, Reference Manager RefWorks), then click Download. (Shown below)

- A file download window appears select Open

In EndNote ...

- A Select a Reference Library dialogue window appears.
- Select the library you would like the citations put in and click Open (you must do this even when your library is already open).

Your database records should now be loaded into your EndNote library.

Note:

Always check and correct the imported citations, the citation information does not always end up in the right field in your EndNote record.
