

Mapping in modern times

New technology revolutionises surveying and mapping:

- electronic distance measurement
- satellite based position fixing
- satellite remote sensing
- geographic information systems

New applications rely on spatial information:

- environmental management
- infrastructure management
- population demographics
- national security