

CALT Central Workshop Opportunities; Semester 1, 2008

Title	Date	Venue	Contact person	Contact No.	Summary
Sessional staff induction days	Sat 1/03	Launceston	Sharon Thomas	6226 3350	Introduction to/overview of teaching and learning at UTAS – underlying educational foundations, relevant policies procedures and documentation, student diversity. Workshops also on working with learners in lectures, tutorials and laboratories; marking and feedback; critical reflection.
	Sat 15/03	Hobart	Natalie Brown	6226 1756
	9.30 - 3.30
Introduction to your teaching portfolio	Wed 26/3 11-1	Videoconf Hbt/Ltn	Natalie Brown	6226 1756	Why use a teaching portfolio? What should be included? How do you get started on your teaching portfolio?
Introduction to assessment and feedback	Fri 11/4 11-1	Videoconf Hbt/Ltn	Natalie Brown	6226 1756	What are the purposes of assessment? How do you align assessment with learning outcomes? How do you write criteria and standards? How can you give effective feedback to students?
Using Critical Reflection in University Learning and Teaching	Tues 22/4 9 - 11	Videoconf Hbt/Ltn	Sharon Thomas	6324 3350	What does it mean to be a reflective practitioner? Why is reflection important? What strategies can you use to develop yourself as a reflective practitioner?
Working with Learners at a Distance	Thurs 1/5 11-1	Videoconf Hbt/Ltn	Gary Williams	6226 2903	What technology is available for use at UTas? How do you engage and motivate students working at a distance? How do you provide quality learning resources and experiences? How can I access information, skills and support?
Encouraging independent learning	Tues 13/5 11-1	Videoconf Hbt/Ltn	Natalie Brown	6226 1756	How can we develop the necessary skills and confidence in students to be effective independent learners?
Evaluation of your unit	Mon 16/6 11-1	Videoconf Hbt/Ltn	Sharon Thomas	6324 3350	What evidence should you collect to evaluate your unit and the impact of your teaching? How should this be interpreted and acted upon?

School or Faculty-based workshops on specific issues can be arranged through the CALT team. Please contact Anja.Legg@utas.edu.au