Procedure

1. Introduction

Tuition fees for domestic and international students are set in accordance with the Domestic Student Fees and International Student Fees Procedure. All students must pay their fees in full upfront, or apply to defer their fees, unless all or part of the tuition fee payable is reduced by a scholarship in accordance with this procedure.

For the purpose of this procedure, tuition fee scholarships are defined as follows:

- internal tuition fee scholarship – is a reduction of the fees payable by either a domestic or international student after standard fees have been charged in accordance with the Higher Education Support Act (HESA) (see section 2) .
 - For domestic students in a Commonwealth Supported Place (CSP), the Australian government pays a portion of the tuition fees under the Commonwealth Grant Scheme (CGS) and the remaining amount is payable by the student (known as the Student Contribution Amount (or HECS under the Higher Education Contribution Scheme)). Under HESA, the University cannot waive or discount the Student Contribution Amount at either a course or unit level, however it may cover the cost of the Student Contribution Amount in the form of a full or partial tuition fee scholarship after the student has been invoiced for the standard fee amount.
 - Full fee paying domestic and international students are required to pay their tuition fees in full. Similarly, the University may cover the cost of the tuition amount in the form of a full or partial scholarship after the student has been invoiced for the standard fee amount.
- exemption scholarship – is a scholarship awarded to students in certain circumstances whereby the University does not charge the Student Contribution Amount or tuition fees for units/s of study undertaken towards a course. See section 2.

Tuition fee scholarships are a valuable component of the University's pricing strategy – they provide the opportunity to widen participation through:

- Removing/reducing financial barriers – enabling access to study at university for financially disadvantaged students.
- Attracting a diverse range of students – from Tasmania, interstate and overseas.
- Fostering community/industry partnerships – with key external partners, or as part of an education proposal or tender.

This procedure aims to ensure tuition fee scholarships are:

- awarded to students in an ethical, open and transparent manner
- applied to students' records in a timely and consistent manner
- reviewed regularly to remain fit-for-purpose
- monitored as part of internal review processes, including the review of educational tenures and students' ongoing eligibility, and
- compliant with the University's legal obligations under HESA.

This procedure does not apply to the following:

- Student Services and Amenities Fees (refer to the Student Services and Amenities Fees Procedure)
- external tuition fee scholarships or sponsorships funded by other organisations
- domestic students in receipt of a Research Training Program (RTP) fee offset
- associated living costs, establishment costs, stipend support (See Coursework Scholarships Procedure).
- overseas student health cover costs (see International Student Fee Procedure)

2. Regulatory requirements

- 2.1. Under HESA, international students must be charged as a minimum, a fee sufficient to recover the full cost of providing a course. The fee must be no less than those shown for the relevant category of courses in the HESA schedule (published indexed rates) unless:
- a) the course is provided wholly offshore and students will not at any stage enter Australia for study; or
 - b) approval has been given by the Australian Government Department of Education to charge less than the minimum indicative fee for a course; or
 - c) overseas students are undertaking study in Australia as part of a formal exchange program; or
 - d) overseas students undertaking study in Australia towards a research master's degree or a research doctoral degree have been awarded a scholarship for that study on the basis of merit following a competitive application process.
- 2.2. The University is not permitted to waive/discount fees at a course or unit level for domestic students who are not exempt students (see HESA section 169-15).
- 2.3. Under HESA (section 169-20), a student may automatically be awarded an 'exemption scholarship' where the student:
- a) Is a domestic student in either a Commonwealth Supported or Full Fee Paying place, and:
 - b) is undertaking a unit of study that wholly consists of 'work experience in industry'; or
 - c) is undertaking a unit of study with a higher education provider as part of a course of study with that provider, for which the provider has awarded an 'exemption scholarship' for that course; or
 - d) is undertaking a unit of study with one higher education provider as part of a course of study with another (the home provider) if the home provider has awarded the student an exemption scholarship for the course; or
 - e) is undertaking a unit of study with one higher education provider (the host provider) as part of a course of study undertaken with another, where the host provider has awarded the student an exemption for the unit; or
 - f) is receiving a Research Training Program (RTP) Fees offset scholarship (which covers the tuition fees of a higher degree by research student).

In these circumstances, a student is not required to pay any of their student contribution amount or tuition fees for unit/s of study undertaken as part of that course of study, from the point at which the scholarship is awarded. The unit/s of study will display as a nil amount on the student's fee invoice and the Fees Team will notify the student of this via the Commonwealth Assistance Notice (CAN) within four weeks of the census date of the relevant study period.

- 2.4. In all other cases, domestic and international students may be awarded an 'internal tuition fee scholarship'. The value of the scholarship is offset against the Student Contribution Amount or tuition fee after the student is invoiced for the standard fee amount.
- 2.5. The student contribution amount or tuition fee covered as part of the scholarship is paid for by the University (recognised as 'foregone revenue') and reported to the government in its entirety as part of the University's Tertiary Collection of Student Information (TCSI) obligations.

3. Categories of internal tuition fee scholarships

3.1. Internal tuition fee scholarships can be awarded and applied under a number of circumstances (course, individual student, or cohort of students) and can be full or partial.

a) Course level

The internal tuition fee scholarship is applied at a course level for all students enrolled in a specified course or courses. (For example, a partial internal tuition fee scholarship for CSPs could be a 50% reduction of the Student Contribution Amount for all units within an undergraduate course, meaning the University covers 50% of the cost and the student covers the remaining 50%).

b) Individual student level

The internal tuition fee scholarship is applied to an individual student's enrolment, either for the duration of their degree, or part of their degree. Individual student scholarships can be applied on a number of grounds, including but not limited to, ad hoc cases where students may be disadvantaged unintentionally (i.e provider default), fee discrepancies, individual cases of student hardship or academic merit.

c) Student Group level

The internal tuition fee scholarship is applied to a group of students, either for the duration of a degree, or part of a degree. Student group scholarships can be applied under a variety of circumstances, for example, where the university has arrangements in place with employers to pay the tuition fees on behalf of their employees.

Internal tuition fee scholarships should be applied in accordance with the fairness provisions set out under Section 19-30 of HESA.

3.2. Internal tuition fee scholarships as a result of an educational partnership and/or tender

Internal tuition fee scholarships can be established as part of an arrangement with an external partner (for example an arrangement with another provider for cross-institutional studies or an educational tender). These are managed in accordance with legislative requirements and exclude courses available only under Employer Reserved Places (refer to HESA for more information and the University's Legal Services for advice regarding Employer Reserved Places). For the purposes of this procedure, internal tuition fee scholarships applicable for educational partnerships and tenders are managed in a similar way to all other internal tuition fee scholarships.

All other aspects of student fees (including student loans, Student Services & Amenities Fees, and completion of the mandatory eCAF) are managed in accordance with standard University policies and procedures.

4. Establishing new internal tuition fee scholarships

4.1. Internal tuition fee scholarships are approved annually (usually between May or July) by the Markets & Revenue Working Group for the following calendar year, once standard tuition fees have been set in accordance with the Domestic Fees Procedure and International Fee Procedure.

4.2. Internal tuition fee scholarships are proposed by the relevant colleges or divisional areas. The teaching college or divisional area must prepare a business case which demonstrates that there is a strong need for an internal tuition fee scholarship to reduce the amount of fees payable by students. Before preparing the business case, the proposing college/division should consult the Fees Team to ensure configuration is possible in the Student Management System and that the proposed fee arrangement complies with relevant legislation.

The business case must specify:

- a) the duration of the internal tuition fee scholarship – including whether this is to be applied for a calendar year or for the duration of the degree
- b) the indicative value of the proposed internal tuition fee scholarship – for example, a specified amount reviewed annually, or a total percentage (%) of a student’s fees for the duration of a degree.

The business case should also include the following, as relevant:

- c) Evidence of student success – for example, data as to the number of students attracted and retained because of the internal tuition fee scholarship, and how many students have been lost.
- d) Modelling of the price sensitivity for students - for example, whether the internal tuition fee scholarship is required to attract students, or whether there is strong evidence that a scholarship is required in order to be competitive.
- e) Analysis of likely student demand – the number of students likely to undertake the course if the internal tuition fee scholarship is offered.

- 4.3. New internal tuition fee scholarships relating to an individual student of <$150,000, and not exceeding the collective value of $500,000 per annum, are to be approved by the Executive Dean in the relevant College or Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Student Services and Operations). New internal tuition fee scholarships relating to an individual student >$150,000 or above the collective value of $500,000 per annum are to be approved by the Markets and Revenue Working Group (MRWG).
- 4.4. All new proposed internal tuition fee scholarship relating to a course or group of students require approval by the Markets and Revenue Working Group (MRWG).
- 4.5. Requests for internal tuition fee scholarships which apply to a course, or group of students should be submitted to MRWG via the relevant teaching college or divisional area, using the template available upon request from markets.revenue@utas.edu.au, following consultation with the Fees team.
- 4.6. Once approved, MRWG will notify the Fees Team of the new internal tuition fee scholarship arrangements. The Fees Team will create a new scholarship code/update an existing scholarship code in the Student Management System and notify the relevant college/area and Marketing once complete.
- 4.7. All information relating to internal tuition fee scholarships must be documented and stored in accordance with the University’s record management keeping processes.

5. Advertising and promotion of internal tuition fee scholarships

- 5.1. Once the internal tuition fee scholarship has been created in the Student Management system by the Fees Team, the course will be required to clearly articulate the internal tuition fee scholarship available.
- 5.2. The Marketing Office is responsible for the promotion of all course level scholarships. All promotional material and marketing of internal tuition fee scholarship are required to be approved by the Marketing Office for compliance purposes.

Automatic assessment

- 6.6. Students will automatically be assessed for some internal tuition fee scholarship when they apply to study at the University.

- b) targeted eligibility criteria including citizenship (i.e. ASEAN scholarship 15%); or
- c) alumni arrangements (i.e. Postgraduate Alumni Scholarship 10%).

Domestic students enrolling in courses which attract internal tuition fee scholarships will be identified either by the Fees Team through system generated reports or by the colleges. Colleges who identify students eligible for internal tuition fee scholarships must submit a request to the Fees Team via Service Now identifying the eligible students.

Processing internal tuition fee scholarships

- 6.7. Once a student has been identified as being eligible for an internal tuition fee scholarship, the Fees

7. Monitoring, review and re-approval of internal tuition fee scholarships

- 7.1. All course and student group level scholarships are monitored and reviewed annually by the college or divisional area in collaboration with the Fees Team, to ensure they remain fit for purpose.
- 7.2. All course and student group level scholarships are to be re-approved annually, see section 7.3.
