

Island of Ideas

PUBLIC TALKS SERIES

Parenting in an Unsteady World

FREE PUBLIC TALK

The world has transformed over the past 80+ years, presenting new challenges for parents and their children. Amid rapid change and an overwhelming amount of advice, it's natural to seek guidance on providing the best support. But how do you choose the right path in this ever-changing world?

Join Developmental Psychologist, Professor Melanie Zimmer-Gembeck, as she delves into the history of parenting studies and narratives. Explore the impact of complex parenting practices on a child's development and uncover five fresh challenges for parents and parenting support programs. Learn how we can cope and thrive as parents, and a community, in today's unsteady world.

06 December

Wednesday 6.00pm

Stanley Burbury
Lecture Theatre

University of Tasmania
Sandy Bay Campus

Refreshments from 5.30pm

Scan here for tickets

CRICOS Provider Code 00586B

UNIVERSITY of TASMANIA 