This practical workshop has been designed for Medical Practitioners wishing to further develop their skills in assessing and managing Appendicitis. Participants will be offered the opportunity to observe and practice operative techniques which will be performed on fresh human cadavers.

Facilitators
- Professor Richard Turner, FRACS, Professor of Surgery, University of Tasmania School of Medicine, General Surgeon
- General Surgery Fellow

Workshop content
- Assessing the acute abdomen
- Abdominal anatomy
- Acute appendicitis
- Skills for appendicectomy/ Open appendicectomy
- (Peri)operative troubleshooting/ Postoperative management

ACRRM and RACGP (category two) QI&CPD Points will be offered.

This workshop has been approved for a one day GP procedural skills training grant of $2000 per day. These grants are offered by the Australian Government for rural and remote GPs to maintain their skills. For more details please contact Australian College of Rural and Remote Medicine (ACRRM) or the Royal Australian College of General Practitioners (RACGP).

Register online at www.utas.edu.au/medicine-short-course
Registrations close Friday, 15th June 2018

Numbers are limited

Contact Us
General Enquiries
Sue Quarmby
Manager, Continuing Professional Development Unit
Ph: 0403 938 558
Email: cpd.medicine@utas.edu.au

CRICOS Provider Code: 00586B