

School of Medicine Short Course Program Basic Assessment & Support in Intensive Care

This is an International course developed in Hong Kong, and taught by local and Interstate Intensive Care Specialists. The target audience for BASIC courses are junior ICU doctors, doctors who are scheduled to rotate through critical care in the near future and senior trainees in medicine, surgery or emergency medicine.

| | |
|-------|--|
| DATES | 15th - 16th February 2018 |
| | 15th - 16th November 2018 |
| TIME | 8:00am - 5:30pm |
| WHERE | University of Tasmania, Medical Science Precinct |
| | 17 Liverpool Street, Hobart |
| COST | $600 (GST inclusive) inc. course manual |

Workshop content

The course is designed to prepare participants in the assessment and practical management of the seriously ill patient in the acute medical environment.

The RHH BASIC Course consists of lectures, skill stations and tutorials. Prior to attending the BASIC course, participants are required to complete an online MCQ test. Further details will be provided on enrolment.

Topics covered include:

- Principles of mechanical ventilation
- Acute respiratory failure
- Acute myocardial infarction
- Management of severe sepsis & septic shock
- Management of severe trauma
- Transport of critically ill patients
- Oliguria and acute renal failure

Register online at www.utas.edu.au/medicine-short-course

Registrations close Friday, 26th January 2018 (February Workshop)
and Friday, 26th October 2018 (November Workshop)

Numbers are limited

Contact Us

General Enquiries

Sue Quarmby

Manager, Continuing Professional Development Unit

Ph: 0403 938 558

Email: cpd.medicine@utas.edu.au