I am a grandmother and I have a particular interest in this matter because of the radical laws that could be passed and in time could effect my family.
Young adults and children can suffer from confusion and are not always able to make such important decisions that will affect them for the rest of their lives.
I'm also very concerned about the drastic measures that will be taken. Irreversible castration and shock therapy, breast binding, hormone therapy and whatever else given to reverse the natural way a child is born.
I also feel greatly concerned about the lack of freedom given for those trying to help these confused youngsters. It appears that even the children's parents, grandparents, health professionals and others could face criminal charges if they, out of love and concern try to dissuade their love ones from going down the gender conversion therapy path.
Please do not proceed with such an agenda and save many lives from being ruined.
Thank you
Mrs. Jennifer Roberts
